Foreword

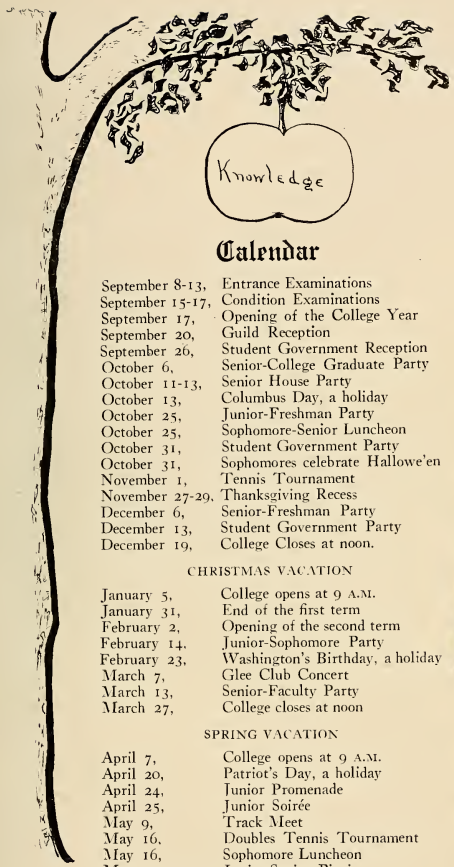

Dear comrades, when you turn these leaves,
Pray, read with sympathetic eyes,
For underneath the outward sense
A wealth of meaning really lies.

For you must know that, though we laugh,
Our laughter daily grows more kind,
And all our jesting, all our mirth
Have come to be with love combined.

1914 Class Song

By BARBARA WALKER

on come ye class-mates, and all of nine-hen four-teen dear, who
 Our du-ty may we clear-ly see, a re- hee one and true, to
 One last great song then let us raise, un- fil the heav'n re- sound, to Oh Sim-mons Sim-mons, here's to thee. The red rose now we bring, and al-ways dis-sonant, do-ty's call, with hearts un-known to fear, we're for-vice to hu-ma-ni-ty, and in each thing we do, May free, if back a hymn of praise in glo-ry to a bound- less We free, love to thy ma-jesty Thy pre-ses high we sing loud our H-ma Ma-ter's name on to the skies a-bove, is we hold es-ceed in our heart the hon- or of our close, When mine-ken thus-then let us lay a great and man-dous shrine, To pledge the lo-yal-ty must true, of old one, nice one, four, As

E-ven glo-ri-ty her fame as to-ken of our love in life's dark we take our part as time shall on-ward pass go-ther near as one to say, "God bless you, val-ley mine,

MARION Y. OSTRANDER

DEAR MRS. SIMMONS:

You have helped many girls in trouble, I know, and I am going to ask you if you will give me some advice. Everybody is so fond of my roommate, and, for the past two years, she has been so busy seeing that college is properly run, that I almost never see her myself. I wonder if you would tell me how I could win her back to our once-happy home.

Hopefully yours,

Student Guild

By a vote of the Guild Council it was decided to try this year the plan of assigning each freshman to a senior adviser. At the present time, when the resident freshmen are by necessity left out of the dormitories, and when there is a large proportion of day girls, the bond thus made seems particularly beneficial, and the resulting stimulus to college spirit is already apparent. The seniors appreciate this opportunity to know the freshmen, and the ties between 1914 and 1917 are becoming very strong.

The annual conference of the Women's Intercollegiate Association for Student Government was held this year at Swarthmore College, and, as formerly, the Chairman of the Guild Council and the President of Dormitory Student Government were sent as delegates. It was most interesting to observe the difference in the amount of power held by the various members of the Association, the older ones having proved themselves capable of having practically absolute authority in matters pertaining to student conduct. The evidence which they showed of the fine spirit of honor underlying the whole system of "self-government" was very inspiring to the younger members of the Association, and it is certain that Simmons as well as the many other colleges, will benefit greatly by its representation at the Conference.

Simmons College Athletic Association

In 1911 when the Simmons Athletic Association was organized its aim and reason for being were not simply to take charge of the athletic activities of the College, but to use these common interests in furthering within classes and within the college as a whole a deeper feeling of unity than ever before. The Association works toward the same ideal now as it did then, but to reach a true realization of this ideal, it must have the support and interest of everyone. It would consider itself very poor indeed, if it could count in its membership only those who actively took part in the athletic contests. The events of tennis, basketball, baseball and track, in creating a generous admiration for the winners, whatever numerals they may wear, tend to develop strong class and college loyalty, and they are, therefore, among the most important factors in our college life.

Endowment Fund

Since the girls were very anxious to increase the Endowment Fund as much as possible this year, a committee was chosen at the beginning of November to organize the work. The committee has held two meetings both of which were for the purpose of planning new ways of making money.

At the first meeting the girls decided that the "Mile of Pennies" was a matter of first importance. Last year $125 was turned in from this source, and this year about $60 has been received. Some of the strips have, of course, been lost, but about 400 of them remain. The committee's first efforts, therefore, were exerted in disposing of and calling in these strips. The Freshmen on the committee were asked to explain the purpose of the strips to their classmates and also to try to arouse enthusiasm among them for the Endowment Fund work in general.

During December the Secretarial girls offered to typewrite theses and other matter for twenty-five cents an hour, the money to be turned over to the committee. Up to the present time, something between six and eight dollars has been received.

The girls were also very much in favor of holding a tag-day as soon as possible, this to be a college affair, and each class to be represented by tags of its own color. It was hoped that everyone would enter into the spirit of the undertaking and also that competition could be worked up between the classes. Other events were talked of, which could be better managed later in the year. The committee is full of enthusiasm and is willing to work. They hope for and expect the coöperation of their classmates and anticipate a successful year.

WEL	Y. W. C. A. DEVOTIONAL MEETING, STUDENTS ROOM TUESDAY 4:30	COME
-----	--	------

Y. W. C. A.

The formal activities of the Young Women's Christian Association closed last spring with a course of lectures on the subject of Christian Fundamentals. The speakers were: the Rev. Dr. Worcester, Mr. Butler, Mr. Richards, Mr. Stockdale, and Dean Hodges.

In June five members of the Association attended the Annual Student Conference held at Silver Bay, Lake George. A large number of delegates is hoped for for next summer, for the ten days spent there are both pleasant and profitable.

The schedule of meetings for this year has been much the same as formerly. Devotional meetings, conducted both by student and outside leaders, have been held in the Students' Room, and a course of Bible study has been under consideration.

In December Miss Josephine Perry attended the meeting of the International Student Volunteer Convention which was held in Kansas City. This is the first time in its history that the College has been represented at the great world Conference, and the report brought back by Miss Perry was full of interest to those who heard her speak.

During the mid-year examinations tea was served in the Students' Room for all who cared to go. To those who attended, these teas were a most welcome experiment, and it is thought that in the future this plan will be followed out for the sake of the student body.

Student Conference

Silver Bay

Those who have never attended a big conference cannot imagine what the Y.W.C.A. Eastern Student Conference at Silver Bay means. Silver Bay on Lake George is as beautifully situated, with the blue sky, gray mountains, pine forests, and mountain lake, as one can picture. The leaders whom one meets there come from many parts of the world; they are of different races, dealing with different problems, and they are so full of life and work that they make one want to be the same. The six hundred college girls are chosen from those who are active in college. They present different outlooks and problems. They have varied opinions and attitudes.

The program of the ten days is a sane mixture of rest, work, and play. Rest comes in the form of quiet hours, when one may write letters, or read, or, perhaps, just lie flat out on the pine needles under the tall trees, and do nothing at all. The work is carried on by the above mentioned leaders in classes, lectures and meetings. One never has to attend them, but, strange to say, usually wants to go to all of them. In recreation there is a wide choice:—basketball, swimming, tennis, boating, and walking. What is worth more than all else is the atmosphere of healthy right living and right thinking. It is necessary, however, to attend one of these conferences in order to appreciate them, and it is hoped that that is just what the girls are going to do in the coming years.

The Microcosm

State Clubs

During this year and last there have been formed at Simmons College six State Clubs, representing New York, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Ohio, and New Jersey. These clubs were formed primarily out of the love of good fellowship and for the purpose of promoting friendship. A second purpose of their organization is to strengthen college spirit among the alumnae and to keep the graduates in touch with their College. This is the more important object of the two. While the girls are at College good comradeship and loyalty to Simmons seem a matter of course. From one end of the four years to the other entertainments and "spreads" and, not least of all, the common ground of work make the girls all one, a united, "live and die for you" sort of people. But afterwards it is all different. A girl is not able to drop into her next door neighbor's room and discuss everything from the state election to what dress she is going to wear under her gown when she graduates. She is going to forget that there is a class of Freshmen struggling along in Physics and that somewhere there are a hundred or more Seniors trying to decide upon an original and previously unknown "theory of right and wrong" the night before Easter vacation. That is, she is going to forget, if she has nothing to remind her. And this is just what the State Clubs are for. They are going to hold all the girls of a state together, the students of the College, the girls who have gone out, and the girls who are planning to come to Simmons. Anybody belonging to a certain state can belong to her State Club and will belong to it; and no matter how forgetful she may be, she will never be allowed to forget what Simmons College is to her and what she is to Simmons College.

With Miss Daniels as leader, the Glee Club and Choir are doing especially good work. The music which they have taken up this year has been much more difficult than has been attempted before, and the girls have taken hold of it with a great deal of enthusiasm. There are several members who have proved themselves well able to undertake solo work. Since the membership of both the Glee Club and the Choir is limited, there is at present a long waiting list for each.

In the Choir there are two divisions of forty voices, each of which sings at Assembly on alternating weeks. There has been more solo work this year than formerly, and the girls appear to be very much interested in what they are doing for the service. The Choir sang at the Memorial Service for Professor Nichols in January, and was also invited to assist at a special vesper service in Harvard Church.

Aided by the Mandolin Club, the Glee Club gives two concerts each year, one in March, and the other in June. The Mandolin Club, aside from the work done with the Glee Club, has been called upon at various times to assist at entertainments in the college, and it has come to be considered one of the fixed organizations of Simmons.

The Dormitory Vespers

Every Sunday evening after supper a vesper service is held in the living-room of the North Hall. Another service is conducted at Peterborough House. Formerly the meeting was held only every other week, but this year it has been decided to have vespers every week, alternating between a musical service and a special speaker.

The Christmas vespers were held in the Church of the Disciples on Sunday afternoon, December fourteen. The trustees, advisory council, instructors and students were invited to attend. Dr. Farley conducted the service, and Miss Arnold and Dr. Lefavour each gave most interesting talks. It is hoped that this Christmas service will become one of the regular occurrences of the college year.

The series of inter-class Basketball games for 1912-13 was played before the spring vacation in order to avoid the difficulty of the previous season, when the year ended before the matches had been played. The series consisted of three games, the first being played on March 7, when 1914 defeated 1916 with a score of 24—17. The second game, played on March 11 between 1913 and 1915, resulted in a score of 20—21 in favor of 1915. 1914 finally won the cup from 1915 on March 14 with a score of 50—9.

Baseball

The Athletic Association was very desirous of making baseball of more importance this year than ever before. The girls felt the need of some activity to take the place of basketball, all match games of which were over by the middle of March, and it was thought that baseball could best serve the purpose. To this end managers were chosen for the different classes, that they might organize teams and start work at as early a date as possible. Indoor training was carried on while the regular diamond was still unfit for use but as soon as the ground and the weather permitted, outdoor practice was taken up with great enthusiasm. The managers are Gertrude F. Baker, Lorna Pinnock, Mildred Bouvé, and Louise P. Johnson.

Tennis Tournament

The finals for the annual fall singles in tennis were played off on Saturday, November 1. This was not the date originally set by the tennis committee, but the one forced upon them by the continued rains during the month of October. Although it was far too cold to be an ideal day for tennis, players and spectators all made the best of the weather, and the spirit of the day was by no means chilled.

Helen M. Anderson played for the seniors, Olive C. Ruby for the juniors, Mildred Bouvé for the sophomores, and Eleanor R. Gregory for the freshmen. It was decided by lot that the semi-finals should be played off between the representatives of sister classes. Miss Anderson defeated Miss Bouvé with a score of 6—2, 10—8, and Miss Ruby defeated Miss Gregory with a score of 6—4, 6—3. In the final match between Miss Anderson and Miss Ruby, Miss Anderson secured the cup for her class with the score of 6—1 in two sets.

There was no match between the college graduates and the special students, the cup going to Miss Katherine E. Hilliker, the college graduate, owing to the default of Miss Irma Vonnegut, who was to represent the special students.

Dr. Underwood and Mr. Schaeffer acted as umpires.

After the final match Miss Anderson was presented with the cup and the other players with numerals by the President of the Athletic Association.

The third annual track meet took place in the athletic field, Saturday morning, May 10, 1913, temperature 40. It was an ideal morning for the participants and many sweaters, supplemented by an enthusiastic spirit, kept the rest warm. During the meet the Sophomores sold ice cream and lemonade, the proceeds of which were for the Endowment Fund, and the girls proved themselves cheerful martyrs to the cause. Another noticeable feature was the fan carried by every loyal Junior.

SENIOR SERENADE

All that week of prom. and dresses
We had waited for the seniors
Forth to come to serenade us,
Monday, Tuesday we had waited:
But on Wednesday, we'd decided,
They would surely come to tell us
In their songs composed at Gloucester,
How they loved their junior schoolmates.

So, when off we saw a senior
Walk with suitcase quite apparent
Or her cap tucked under one arm,
Stealthy, cautious in her manner,
Or when'er we neared her presence,
As she talked in silent corners
With another whispering maiden,
And she quickly changed her subject,

Do you wonder that we juniors,
Watching, keen, observing juniors,
Thought the night had come of all nights
When the seniors songs would sing us?
And when dinner time drew nearer
And the few remaining seniors
Slowly wandered off and left us,
Do you wonder we were certain?

So we caref'ly set our watches
To await the coming seniors
With their gayly-lighted lanterns.
Could not catch us juniors sleeping!
Then about eleven-thirty,
When we all were getting anxious,
Skulked a shadow in the darkness—
Then another and another.

The Microcosm

Quick a message spread like wild-fire
'Round among the waiting juniors.
Wrapped in sweaters, rugs and blankets
Flocked we to the colonnade top.
There we sat all still and quiet.
Ranged against the sky like mummies
Sat the poor deluded juniors.
Pretty sight for laughing seniors!

For the seniors now returning
(Castle Square or some cheap theater!)
Saw us sitting on the roof top,
Laughed, then off to bed betook them.
And we poor deluded juniors
Had to leave our lofty station;
But undaunted, not discouraged,
Bound to turn the tables somehow.

Just at midnight by the church bells
Out upon the peaceful night-air
Burst the song of nineteen-fourteen.
Waked the seniors snug within doors.
'Round a fire between the houses
Danced the juniors singing class-songs.
Then a hush fell 'round the fire-pit.
Then what passed? What did those juniors?

JUNIOR PROM.

On the evening of April 26, 1913, the class of nineteen-fourteen held its Junior Prom. in the Refectory. In the receiving line were President Lefavour, Dean Arnold, Dr. and Mrs. Norris, Miss Williams, Miss Glos-ter, Mr. Goodell and Miss Ostrander, President of the junior class.

The ushers were members of the sophomore class and included the officers—Anita M. Allen, Kathryn T. Gordon, Hilda C. Williams and Evelyn Emerson—and the following girls: Lena C. Beecher, Helen H. Cary, Elizabeth L. Kennison and Marjorie A. Potwine.

The chairmen of the committees in charge were: Ruth K. Whiting, Decorations; Edna E. Perry, Supper; Marjorie Parmley, Invitations and Orders; Anita Q. Clark, Music and Floor; Ruth B. Klein, Invitations to Former Members; Paula F. Mueller, Dormitory.

SOIRÉE

On the Saturday following Prom. the junior class entertained their guests in the afternoon with a theatre party at the Shubert, where Emma Trentini was playing in "The Firefly." In the evening there was an informal dance held in the reception rooms of North and South Halls. Frances Hughitt acted as chairman of the committee in charge.

May

Day

Ye May Day was greeted with much merriment and song by many maidens. Early in ye morning they of the class of nineteen fifteen arose and awakened their sister class by many a song suggestive of ye early spring time. Dainty May baskets were hung and ye May pole was wound as sweet maids were wont to wind it in ye days of Merrie England. A repast appropriate to May Day was set out upon ye lawn and all partook. Then they of nineteen fifteen crowned as their "Queen o' the May" ye President of that class which had acted unto them in a manner sisterly, which ceremony completed with due festivity their greeting of ye sweet month o' May.

THE AMAZONS

On Saturday afternoon and evening, May 3, 1913, the college graduates presented Pinero's "The Amazons" for the benefit of the Simmons College Endowment Fund. The cast was well chosen and the entire performance reflected much credit on the players.

The cast was:

Barrington, Viscount Litterly	LOUISE R. UFFORD
Galfred, Earl of Tweenways	FAITH W. ELLIOTT
André, Count de Grival	FAITH T. LANMAN

The class of 1916 gathered in the Refectory on Saturday afternoon, May 10, 1913, to enjoy their Freshman Frolic. The party was unique, in that it was attended by many "trade marks" of well known advertisements, that frolicked together and competed in a mock track meet.

The committee was:

GERTRUDE F. HUSSEY, Chairman
MARGARET V. THOMPSON
LEONE M. FOOTE

SOPHOMORE LUNCHEON

On Saturday, May 17, 1913, the class of nineteen fifteen enjoyed their Sophomore Luncheon, one of the pleasantest occasions in the career of the class. Miss Elizabeth Freeman acted as toast-mistress. The responses were:

JUNIOR-SENIOR PICNIC

Happy are the thoughts aroused by the recollection of the junior-senior outing at Nantasket! Late in May the classes of nineteen thirteen and fourteen spent a day picnicking at the beach, and together put aside the trials and tribulations of the regular routine for a day of fun and frolic. The "Betty Alden" was engaged by the picnickers, and the jollity of the boat ride was not in the least degree marred by the occasional mists and the general grayness of the day.

The committee in charge of the outing consisted of Jennette R. Carpenter and Marjorie Parmley.

On Saturday afternoon, October 25, the sophomore class entertained the seniors, their sister class, at luncheon. The tables were artistically decorated with the class colors, and the girls wore ribbons and flowers appropriate to the occasion. During the luncheon the two classes sang to each other the songs which they had written for that purpose.

Those on the committee were Frances E. Hall (chairman), Adele Chandler, Clara L. Munger, Marjorie Soper and Lucile W. Hill.

SOPHOMORE-FRESHMAN PARTY

The refectory was the scene of a Thé Dansant Saturday afternoon, January 10, at which the class of nineteen sixteen entertained nineteen seventeen. The party was a very pretty one, and the program was a pleasant surprise to the guests.

The committee was: Katharine M. Leonard, Gertrude F. Hussy, Ruth Hammond, Lucile W. Hill, and Margaret Burns.

STUDENT GUILD RECEPTION

On Saturday afternoon, the twentieth of September, the Student Guild held its annual reception in the refectory. President Lefavour, Miss Marion Y. Ostrander, Miss Ruth K. Whiting, Miss Alice C. Livingston, and Miss Frances B. Banks were in the receiving line. The welcoming committee of the class of nineteen fifteen acted as ushers.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT DANCE

The Student Government Association gave a dance to the entering students on the evening of September 26. Those who formed the receiving line were: Dean Arnold, Miss Gloster, Mrs. Freeman, Miss Ruth K. Whiting, Miss Marion Y. Ostrander, Miss Margaret M. Clark, and Miss Marjorie Soper. Those on the committee in charge were the Misses Helene A. Boehmke, Winona C. Hyland, Dorothea K. Perry, and Lydia M. Woodbridge.

THE MAGISTRATE

On November 8, 1913, the Simmons Club of Boston presented Pinero's "The Magistrate" for the benefit of the Simmons Club Fund. The cast was as follows:

Beatie Tomlinson	MADELAINE L. SCOTT ✕
Cis Farrington	GLENN A. TRUE ✕
Wyke	SUSIE JAMES
Popham	CATHARINE CASASSA
Agatha Posket	DOROTHY FAY ✕
Mr. Posket	GERTRUDE J. BURNETT ✕
Mr. Bullamy	MABEL A. MAGEE
Charlotte Ven	REBECCA S. GROSS ✕
Isadore	PHOEBE FREEMAN
Achille Blond	BEULAH C. HATCH
Colonel Lukyn	RUTH HARRINGTON ✕
Captain Horace Vale	MARGARET RIDLON ✕
Inspector Messiter	FLORENCE C. SARGENT
Constable Harris	SUSIE JAMES

The committee in charge was: Miss Grace A. Knight, Miss Madelaine L. Scott, Miss Beatrice Polsey, Miss Judith Smith, and Miss Helen E. Horne.

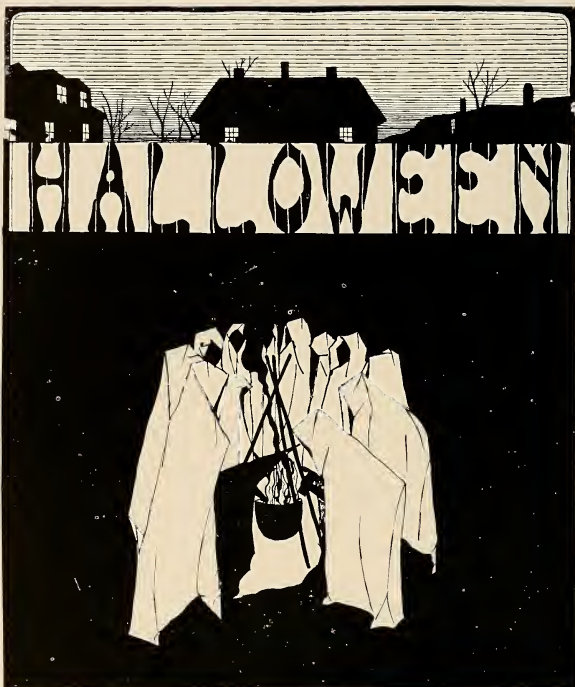

ALICE IN COLLEGELAND

The class of nineteen fifteen entertained the entering class on the afternoon of October 25 with a burlesque entitled "Alice in Collegeland." Those who took part were:

Alice	MARJORIE SHAW
The Rabbit	EILEEN A. COLONNA
The College Mouse	RHEA M. GILLESPIE
The Cat(alogue)	MILDRED A. LIBBY
The Hatter	MARY G. PRATT
The Turtle	ANITA M. ALLEN
The Gryphon	LENA C. BEECHER
The King of Marks	LAURA F. THOMPSON
The Queen of Marks	ELSEY W. LARKIN

The entertainment committee was:

MARJORIE A. POTWINE, Chairman
DOROTHY THROSSELL
ADA E. ALEXANDER
MARGARET M. SPRAGUE
HILDA C. WILLIAMS
MARY A. PINKHAM
ANNE T. UPHAM

THE CHRISTMAS PARTY

On December thirteen all was bright and cheerful within the refectory, for the Christmas Spirit was abroad. While dinner was being served Santa Claus and a bountiful Christmas tree caused much merriment, and the carols which were sung underneath the windows proved to be a most pleasing innovation for those within doors.

In the course of the evening an entertainment was offered for which the guests were indebted to Dr. and Mrs. Farley, Miss Mitzlaff, Miss Hattie R. Anderson, Miss Marjorie Soper, Miss Beatrice Nardini, and the Mandolin Club.

THE SENIORS' MARCH

The Seniors march at Chapel,
Each Wednesday afternoon.
Instead of marching to a march,
They choose a slow hymn tune.

They take a step and then they pause
And balance on one toe,
Until the organ booms again
Then one more step they go.

And so on up the aisle proceed
In awful indecision;
Sometimes a mile 'tween each two pairs,
Sometimes abrupt collision.

We really mean no disrespect,
We only think it's funny.
Why not enlarge th' Endowment Fund
And do your stunt for money?

SOME LETTERS THAT I SHOULD LIKE TO RECEIVE

DEAR MISS RUSHT:

Don't hurry in with your reserve book tomorrow morning. I shall be glad to take it upstairs for you whenever you come. You will find me waiting by the elevator.

Respectfully yours,

THAD.

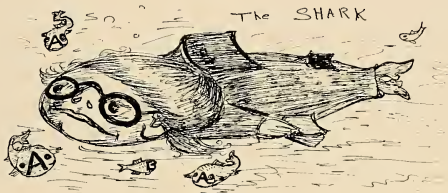

DEAR MISS RUSHT:

Several times recently I have observed you making frequent trips to the library. I wish that I could make you see that it is for your own welfare that you are not tired out by physical exercise. Can I not induce you to substitute this for an hour of Gymnasium work each week?

Faithfully yours,

F. S. D—L.

The Microcosm

DEAR MISS RUSHT:

You looked so drawn when I met you in the corridor the other day that I thought perhaps you were worrying about your marks. There is really no need for this, for the Typewriter Co. has not yet had an opportunity to repair the E's and F's which we wore out when the last five-weeks marks went in.

Faithfully yours,

M. B-RB-NK.

DEAR MISS RUSHT:

I have observed that you are becoming somewhat fagged of late, and would suggest that you owe it to yourself and to the College to conserve your strength. Ergo would you consider remaining at home for the next few days in order to recuperate?

Sincerely yours,

B. M. P-LLSB-RY.

DEAR MISS RUSHT:

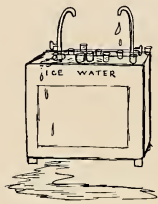

We have looked up your schedule and find that your fourth hour classes on Monday, Wednesday and Friday are on the third floor. This being the case, we have wondered if it would not be more convenient to have us reserve a table for your use on these days.

Lovingly yours,

THE LUNCHROOM COMMITTEE.

A Popular Watering Place

She washed the emptied jelly-glass
And stood it up to dry,
And then she washed the paraffin
And stood it safely by.

But sometime later when she looked,
"Alas! Alack!" cried she,
"Now, who has seen my paraffin,
Oh, dear, where can it be?"

"Where was it put?" they all inquired,
And with an injured air,
She said, "I merely stood it on
The radiator there."

Chemistry Student: Have you heard the awful thing about the artificial camphor?

Freshman: No, what happened?

Chemistry Student: Why, it was enough to make a moth bawl!

A Household Ec. Senior strongly recommends dried eggs for camp cooking—they'd be so handy for baking powder biscuits, etc.

PSYCHOLOGY

Psychology's the subject grim,
As all the seniors find,
To brighten up the intellect
And cultivate the mind.

We learn among the lesser facts
(The whole escapes me now)
A concept of the twoness of
That purple concrete cow.

On Thomas and the kittens three
And English Sparrow Jones
We ponder till our weary minds
Are dry as dusty bones.

So mem'ries, percepts, visions of
The Jersey cow and calf
Float through our heads, and in our dreams
We see the young giraffe.

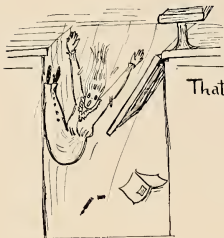

Chirp sadly, English Sparrow Jones,
Farewell, dear purple cow,
No hope is left, dear young giraffe,
For Ethics has us now!

EVOLUTION

THE BALLAD OF "ELSIE" SMITH

You say that typewriting is hard
And transcripts awful things to do,
But if you were an "Elsie" Smith
You'd find you'd have your troubles, too.

You'd have to stand for bangs all day
Until you'd wish that you were dead,
And e'en when put away at night
You'd have to stand upon your head.

You'd feel the anxious Sophomore
Jam paper in you, ream on ream,
And then she'd pull it out again
Until, if you could scream, you'd scream.

Since you could not, you'd vent your spite
In ways discreet, yet quite complete.
You'd stick a space, then skip a space,
And ruin every single sheet.

The Microcosm

And yet, the Sophomore'd be best.
And first she'd keep you clean and neat.
She'd look upon you, too, with awe,
And, as you know, respect is sweet.

The Junior is not half so nice—
She's lost respect and neatness, too.
At first she'd clean you once a week,
But later, once a month would do.

The Senior'd always come in haste,
Her war-cry ever "Speed! More Speed!"
She'd rush upon you in a whirl
And shake you like a broken reed.

She'd stay with you whene'er she could—
If you had nerves they'd be in pieces,
For when she'd nothing else to do
She'd sit and copy silly theses.

So, Junior, or whoe'er you be,
A Senior, Soph, or College Grad,
(Thanks be! the Freshman lets us rest)
Pray, just recall, our lot is sad,

And change that look of bitter hate
To one of tender pity, do.
You're not the only one to moan,
We typewriters have troubles, too.

We heard a man the other day
Express the clever notion,
That in his mind the Turkey Trot
The poultry was of motion.

SYSTEM

Every day I go to school
And try to keep 'most every rule,
And every day when I feel good
I go to Coolidge after food.

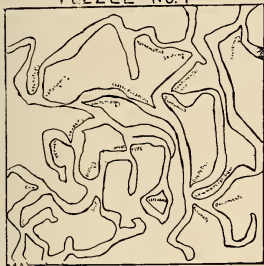

The child who cuts her classes here
Will get an "unallowed," I fear.
She is a naughty child, I'm sure,
And her excuse is very poor.

I SHOULD WORRY

I should worry like a chemical theory and be exploded.
I should worry like the college clock and be run down.
I should worry like the MICROCOSM and get sold.
I should worry like a Y. W. C. A. meeting and choose a hymn.
I should worry like the Mandolin Club and get all strung up.

THE SIMMONS P.O.

The most popular place that I know in our College
 Is not in the room where they deal us out knowledge.
 It is down at the foot of those tiresome stairs
 And along with the blackboards and 'phone booth and chairs.
 It is there that the mail's always brought every day.
 (Rest assured it is scanned in the carefulest way!)
 There are Woods and the 'phone girl and gossip quite rare,
 And the strangers make all their inquiries down there.
 So for all my spare minutes it's there I shall go—
 If you want me just ask at the Simmons P. O.

Doctor (to run-down Freshman): Just what is your condition?
Freshman: History.—Why, how did you know?

The Juniors thought of having Prom. at the Waldorf Astoria this year, but then they decided that after all the Copley Plaza was just a bit more convenient.

FATHER'S CHECK

I thought of movies and a show,
Of Bailey's for a sundae,
And said, with satisfaction great,
"I'll make it last till Monday."

I went to school. "Please buy this book!"
My hopes began to wither:
The bookstore's in the basement, so
I turned my footsteps thither.

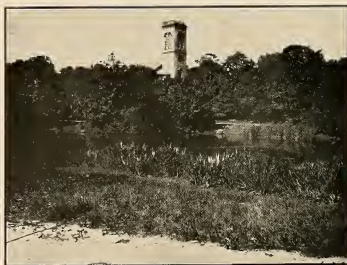

I bought the book, and then some more—
They piled them all together,
Till father's check was like the sun
That fades in stormy weather.

So father's check and chocolate fudge
Alike were but a bubble:
A small receipt "Pay to the Class,"
I got for all my trouble!

AND THE PSYCH. THESIS ONLY TWO DAYS OFF!

I beg your pardon, but will you spell for me? Now, I'll give you a word, and you tell me just as quickly as you can what you think of—hand-organ, iceberg, train, mumps, cabbage. Will you please look at this while I count three and then tell me what you remember? Are you musical? Why did you come to Simmons? Learn this poem in as short a time as possible and tell me how you did it. How do you think of the days of the week? Have a piece of candy—why did you take that one? Taste this, look at that picture, and say the first thing that comes into your head.

SENSATIONS

Alas! that this freshman so small,
Thus trembling and awe-struck should fall.
She fears we would tread
On her poor little head,
But it really is not so at all.

She grows to a soph'more quite grand,
And her chest—just you watch it expand!
The freshmen she eyes
From a throne in the skies,
And wears crowns with the largest size band.

Oh, hush! Whisper low what we say,
For a junior we see her today.
One walks on one's toes
Wherever one goes.
(But not the instructors, not they!)

At last a brave senior we see,
Now sinking, now swimming is she,
She must struggle and fight
With the goal well in sight,
For she's bound she will get her degree.

1914 Statistics

When you utter the word "statistics" to anyone in the Simmons world you see horror spread from brow to brow. The Household Economics girl ponders painfully upon dizzy charts, the Library girl upon afternoons spent in distant parts of the "B. P. L.," and the Secretarial girl—where is she? Tabulation-mad, she has already taken to her heels. These statistics, however, never have been and never will be either "chartered" or tabulated, and if you wish to share them with the book-worms of the "B. P. L.," that is your fault and not ours.

THE BEST NATURED

It has impressed us very greatly that the girl who has had to manage the class for a whole semester should still receive the honor of being voted the best natured person in 1914. Such, however, is Ava's distinction, and so, if we did not live in the Fenway, we should certainly take our hats off to her.

THE HARDEST WORKER

We also feel the deepest respect for Margery M. Smith, and are sorry that we cannot afford to award her a prize for being the hardest worker in the class. If we think that we are driven, what would be our state of mind if we were as conscientious as she? As for the prize—well, Margery is interested in the Endowment Fund too, so she will understand that under the watchful eye of the Sophomores there is seldom a slip 'twixt the cent and the strip.

The Microcosm

THE MOST EXTRAVAGANT

Speaking of financial matters make us think of the problem of extravagance at College. Although most of us may think of one particular girl as claiming distinction in this line, still is it quite possible that there is truth in the remark that every student is the most extravagant one—in the eyes of her own parents.

THE BEST DRESSED

Extravagance has nothing to do with being well dressed, for the latter, of course, is entirely due to instruction given in the A-1 program. We had to call for a recount to determine whether Jennette Carpenter or Doris Ayer showed the better taste. There is one thing of which we are sure, and that is that we are all better dressed this year than we shall be next year when we are earning our own living.

THE MOST VERSATILE

We are taught that when that time comes we must cultivate versatility above all, for the more we know about the different phases of our work, the more successful we shall be. Such being the case, Jo Perry will never come to want, for not only can she speak on every subject imaginable, but she really understands what she is talking about.

The Microcosm

THE FASTEST TALKER

Jo may be very clever at talking, but if Dr. Eldridge wishes the assistance of 1914 in working up speed by dictation, we strongly advise him to call on Jennette. She is guaranteed to dictate at the rate of five hundred and fifty words a minute.

THE CLEVEREST

In spite of the fact that a large number of votes came in for Agnes Gartland as the cleverest girl, so many other votes cluttered up the ballot-box that we decided that we must be a pretty brilliant class after all. The Board rather regrets that more of the wit which was evidently displayed to others was not scribbled down and dropped into the MICROCOSM contribution box.

THE FUNNIEST

We never did quite understand the difference between wit and humor, but we are sure that Margaret Potter abounds in the latter. If you do not believe it, just spend one of your spare week-ends on third floor South, and find out for yourself.

The Microcosm

THE LAZIEST

It was appalling to find how few people had any opinion as to who was the laziest girl in our class. There seems to be a general feeling that anyone who was ever afflicted with that disorder has not remained at Simmons long enough to become a Senior.

THE BIGGEST NUISANCE

There was also some difficulty in deciding who was the biggest nuisance. Our class treasurer, Ruth Klein, has a most annoying and inconvenient way of asking for what we have not, and often the business manager of the MICROCOSM shows the same weakness. We have consequently concluded to ask the two most interested to toss up for the honor—heads, you win; tails, I lose!

THE MOST CHEERFUL

In spite of the "statistic" just mentioned, the majority of the Seniors also consider Ruth the most cheerful member of the class. If she ever feels blue, she never shows it in anything but her wardrobe—come to think of it, perhaps that is why her clothes are always of that color. Would that we all had as simple a method.

The Microcosm

THE MOST TACTFUL

Tact is a characteristic which all of us have notes about, but which few of us have found time to cultivate. Marion Ostrander has been recognized by the world in general, and by 1914 in particular, as one of the Seven Wonders in the art of diplomacy. On the other hand, we maintain that Babo has had more training than the rest of us, for she has been trying for the past three years to break it gently to people that she "is—no, a—not exactly er—a Freshman."

THE BEST LOOKING

There are many people who say that they cannot tell the difference between Paula Mueller and Edith Salisbury. We now have further proof of their similarity, for each of them was chosen by so many people for the best looking girl, that those of us who voted for ourselves are completely discouraged.

THE MOST ORIGINAL SPELLER

We anticipated that spelling would be a delicate point with many of the girls, but were pleasantly surprised to find that no one was at all reticent on the subject. Although Helene Boehmke has shown herself a candidate for the distinction of worst speller (is it "heresy" or "harassy"?) Florence Gallant had so many votes that it seemed as if her friends (?) must have been inveigled into stuffing the ballot. She has passed the examination now, however, and feels the relief of no longer needing to know how to spell.

The Microcosm

THE FAVORITE AMUSEMENT

Every conceivable form of amusement seems to be somebody's favorite, but dancing is in most cases the most popular. Two or three say that they enjoy more than anything else watching the other division march in Chapel. We suggest that during the remainder of the year they be self-sacrificing enough to forego that pleasure in order to lend support to their struggling classmates.

THE MOST ATHLETIC

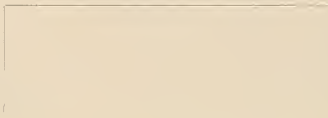

Speaking of dancing and Chapel marching, we come to the consideration of our athletes. The voting was very close for three girls—Lillian Nisbet, whose prominence in track work is recognized by all, and Tod Anderson, who for four years has been 1914's tennis champion, and who, with Connie Ekstrand, the third candidate, has done wonders to gain for us the basketball cup.

THE MOST POPULAR INSTRUCTOR

It is quite impossible to decide upon a most popular instructor, for there are far too many "in the running." We therefore offer the names of three—Dr. Farley, Miss Blood and Miss Craig. We did try to settle the question by ascertaining who had attended the most proms., but our last hopes were tragically dashed by finding that it was after all a tie between Miss Arnold and Mr. Goodell!! We consequently leave this question, feeling sure that after the Faculty has been duly petitioned (according to custom) the matter will be taken up and satisfactorily decided for us at an early date.

Now since you want to pass with A's,
The pride of all your mas and dads,
We would suggest you straightway go

Three Important Reasons Why You Should Do Your Shopping in Boston's Greatest Store

I. Two great buildings—over 21 acres of selling space—are filled with practical merchandise at all times of the year. Convenient arrangement of merchandise and ample aisle room in both buildings assure most comfortable and satisfactory shopping.

II. On account of our unequalled facilities we are the first to show the novelties of the season. Here also you are sure to find many things not obtainable elsewhere—especially in goods of foreign manufacture.

III. You can read our advertisements, knowing that dependence can be placed in the goods offered. Exaggeration is something never allowed and every article must be up to our required high standard, or it would not be permitted in our stock—much less advertised.

It's Like Magic to Her.

"I never supposed when I was a girl that some day I could take a powder, put it in a little hot water, let it cool, and have a dessert so delicious that it would make one's mouth water to think of it. I'm a good cook, but I've never been able to make anything better than those desserts. Just think what one can do with a ten-cent package of Jell-O!

"The plain Jell-O, the Jell-O and fruit, the Jell-O and whipped cream, and Jell-O in a hundred forms—all so simple and easy to make. It seems like magic to me."

She has told it all, and every woman who has used Jell-O will agree with her.

Cost, 10 cents. Time of making, one minute.

Seven pure fruit flavors: Strawberry, Orange, Lemon, Raspberry, Cherry, Peach, Chocolate.

Each in a separate package, 10c. at any grocer's.

A beautiful new Recipe Book, with brilliantly colored pictures by Rose Cecil O'Neill, author and illustrator of "The Kewpies," will be sent free to all who write and ask us for it.

THE GENESEE PURE FOOD CO., Le Roy, N. Y., and Bridgeburg, Can.

The name JELL-O is on every package in big red letters. If it isn't there, it isn't JELL-O.
